

Cooperation Contributor License Agreement (CCLA)

Thank you for your interest in the openJiuwen open-source project (hereinafter referred to as the "Project") owned or managed by Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd. and/or its affiliates (hereinafter referred to as "Huawei").

This Cooperation Contributor License Agreement (hereinafter referred to as "CCLA" or "this Agreement") allows you to contribute to the Project. To clarify the rights granted by any individual or entity for their contributions, Huawei archives a signed CCLA from each contributor, indicating that the contributor agrees to the following license terms. This Agreement is designed to protect Contributors, and it does not alter your rights to use your Contributions for any other purpose. The Company may designate its authorized employees to submit Contributions, provided that the Company has obtained, through its employment agreements or other agreements, the full right, title, and interest in and to such Contributions made by such employees.

Before completing and signing this CCLA, please read it carefully and retain a copy for your records.

For your current and future contributions, you accept and agree to the following terms and conditions. Except for the licenses granted to Huawei and the recipients of the software distributed by Huawei under this Agreement, you retain all rights, title, and interest in your contributions.

1. Definitions

"Project" refers to the openJiuwen open-source project owned or managed by Huawei, which can be accessed through the addresses listed in Appendix A.

"Affiliates" means any company or other organization now or in the future controlled by, under the control of, or under common control with a party. "Control" means the direct or indirect ownership of at least thirty percent (30%) of the voting shares or other securities entitled to elect directors (or other management officials) of the controlled or commonly controlled entity.

"Contributor" or "You" refers to the copyright owner or an individual or legal entity authorized by the copyright owner who signs this CCLA and voluntarily submits contributions to the "Project." For legal entities, it includes the entity making the "Contribution" and its Affiliates.

"Contribution" refers to one or more original works that you submit under this CCLA and that are incorporated or archived in any product or product documentation owned or managed by the "Project," including modifications or supplements to existing works, and such original works originate from you or on behalf of your individual or legal entity. When you send communications containing your "Contribution" in any form, electronic or written, to the "Project," the project community, or Huawei, it is considered that your contribution has been "Submitted," including but not limited to communications on email lists for discussion, development, or improvement of the Project's software or documentation, submissions in the source code revision control system, and submissions in the issue tracking system managed by the "Project" or its representatives, except for communications that you clearly mark or otherwise designate as "Non-Contributions" in writing.

2. Copyright License Grant

Under this Agreement, you hereby grant to Huawei and the recipients of the software distributed by Huawei a perpetual, non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to exercise the following rights:

- 1) To reproduce, use, modify, distribute, run, develop derivative works, and publicly display your Contribution.
 - 2) To relicense and redistribute your Contribution and its derivative works to the public or any third party, as determined by Huawei, under appropriate licensing strategies and license terms.
- You understand and agree that if others create derivative works based on your Contribution, the party creating the derivative work will own the ownership and intellectual property rights of the derivative work.

3. Patent License Grant

Under the terms and conditions of this Agreement, you hereby grant to Huawei, and all persons who directly or indirectly receive your Contribution or its derivative works from Huawei or the "Project," a perpetual, non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as provided below) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer your Contribution and its derivative works. The patent license is limited to the patent claims that you have the right to grant and that, if not granted, the submission of your "Contribution" or the combination of your "Contribution" with the "Work" at the time of submission would necessarily constitute infringement. If any entity brings a patent lawsuit (including counterclaims or cross-claims in a lawsuit) against you or any other entity, alleging that your "Contribution" or the aforementioned combination constitutes direct or indirect patent infringement, then all patent licenses granted by you to that entity under this Agreement for that "Contribution" or "Work" shall terminate as of the date the entity brings such a lawsuit.

In addition to the licenses granted under Sections 2 and 3, you retain all rights, title, and interest in your Contribution. You agree not to assert any claims against individuals or other legal entities who use your Contribution based on this Agreement for any profits they may obtain.

4. You represent and warrant that you have the legal right to grant the licenses specified in Sections 2 and 3.

5. You represent and warrant that your Contribution is your original work (see Section 7 for contributions on behalf of others). You represent and warrant that your Contribution includes complete details of any third-party licenses or other restrictions (including but not limited to related copyrights, patents, and trademarks) that you know and that are related to any part of your Contribution.

6. Unless you voluntarily choose to do so, you are not required to provide support services for your "Contribution." Except as expressly stated in this Agreement, your Contribution is provided "AS IS" without any express or implied warranties or conditions (including but not limited to any warranties of title, non-infringement, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or conditions).

7. If you intend to submit non-original works, you may distinguish the work from your "Contribution" and submit it to the "Project," and according to your knowledge, identify the source of that part of the content and provide complete details of any licenses or other restrictions (including but not limited to related patents, trademarks, and license agreements) and prominently mark the work to indicate that it is submitted on behalf of a third party, along with the name of that third party.

8. Information provided by Huawei in private repositories (if any) under this Project is considered confidential information. You must strictly comply with the applicable confidentiality agreements between you and Huawei, treat the above information as confidential information, and fulfill your obligations under the confidentiality agreement. If you have not signed a confidentiality agreement with Huawei, you may not disclose, distribute, or share any information from the private repositories (if any) of this Project without prior written authorization from Huawei, unless Huawei has made such information public. If you breach the confidentiality obligations under this clause, Huawei has the right to (1) apply for an injunction to terminate the ongoing breach; (2) claim compensation for all damages caused by such breach, including but not limited to attorney fees arising from or related to your breach of the confidentiality obligations under this clause.

9. You agree to promptly notify the Huawei of any facts or circumstances that would render the commitments under this Agreement inaccurate.
